

THE RIO'S LINE SLIPS.

And Sends an Iron Ring Into the Pilot's Office.

An iron ring, such as is used around the top of the mooring posts on the Pacific Mail wharf, is not a pleasant thing to be hit in the head with, is what Captain Lorenzen thought early Saturday morning.

It was just about 6:30 a. m. and the P. M. S. S. Rio de Janeiro was coming alongside the Pacific Mail wharf. No bow line was sent ashore, but a spring line was thrown out, and after being passed around the mooring post at the mauka corner of the wharf and the one opposite at the makai corner, it was passed to the bow and attached to the donkey engine aboard.

Then came a steady pull. The rope tightened and kept slipping up toward the top of the mauka post, where there was an iron ring or band.

Suddenly there was a sound as if the line had parted, and of course a general scattering of people on the wharf. The ring was thrown against the pilot's office, smashing through the lattice work just above the head of Captain Lorenzen, who was sitting reading the Advertiser in a chair tilted back against the office, and striking the makai casing of the door with such force as to move it an inch and a half. This done, it rolled out and down the steps of the office to the feet of three natives standing near by.

It is needless to say that Captain Lorenzen vacated his chair and that Custom House Guard Murray, who was standing in the path of the missile, made a dive for the edge of the wharf.

CAPT. SWANSON KILLED.

Fell Through Open Hatchway. Died in Hospital.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 8.—Captain Swanson of the bark Matilda fell into an open hatchway of his vessel while on his way from Port Townsend to Fort Blakeley last night, and died in the hospital here today. Captain Swanson was well known on the Pacific, where he has sailed for about twenty years. He leaves two children, who inherit an eighth interest in the Matilda. The bark was in the lumber trade between Puget Sound and Honolulu.

WHARF AND WAVE.

The schooner Ada will sail for Hilo this afternoon.

Port Blakeley—Arrived, August 8, bark Matilda, from Honolulu.

Valparaiso—Arrived, August 4, Haw. schr Honolulu, from Glasgow.

Hong Kong—Sailed, August 8, Br. str. Gaelic, for San Francisco, via Yokohama and Honolulu.

The Mikahala has been completely overhauled, a new boiler has been placed in her and she has been fitted out with electric lights. Her first trip will be made Tuesday, August 25th.

The American bark Albert, Griffiths master, arrived Sunday morning, 14 days from San Francisco, with a full cargo of general merchandise, 16 horses and one jackass. Two of the horses are for the Honolulu fire department.

The American bark S. C. Allen, Thompson master, arrived from San Francisco yesterday. Following is the captain's report: Left San Francisco at 12 noon August 8th; had remarkably fine weather with moderate breezes all the way; arrived in port at 11 a. m. August 23rd with a cargo of about 700 tons of general merchandise, 8 horses and 23 mules for B. T. McCulloch who came down with them; also one horse for the Inter-Island Co.

The P. M. S. S. Rio de Janeiro, Ward commander, came into port Saturday morning and hauled alongside the Pacific Mail wharf. Purser Freeman furnished the following report of the voyage: Sailed from Hong Kong August 20, and from Yokohama August 11th, at 12:05 p. m., arriving in Honolulu August 21st at 10:30 p. m. Fine weather throughout the voyage. Time, 11 days, 6 hours and 15 minutes. On the trip over to the Orient the Rio de Janeiro encountered a typhoon which delayed her arrival in Hong Kong. Here she went on the dry dock for a cleaning and slight repairs to her propeller. While here another severe typhoon delayed operations for a couple of days, so she was four days late leaving Yokohama.

RULES FOR SEAMEN.

As Evolved by the British Board of Trade.

To preserve discipline on board ship is not always an easy matter, and the master often becomes a tyrant through necessity. The Board of Trade, however, has interfered with salutary effect, and while it protects the sailor from tyranny, it also takes care that he shall be on his best behavior. In truth, poor Jack has not very much liberty if the following penalties are imposed:

For swearing or using improper language he forfeits one day's pay.

For quarreling or provoking to quarrel he suffers the same.

The same punishment is inflicted on the man who carries a sheath knife.

If he brings spirits on board he loses three days' wages.

For every smoke indulged in "below" he forfeits one day's wage.

The same if he neglects to put out lights when ordered.

If the lookout man falls asleep he must cost him two days' pay.

If the cook has not dinner on the table at the stroke of the clock it is a matter of one day's pay.

For not attending divine services on Sunday the fine is one day's pay; and even though he attends, if he does not behave reverently, he loses the same sum.

For washing clothes on Sunday he pays a day's wages.

And for not being shaved, washed and cleaned up and span on the Sabbath he loses one day's pay; also insolence to master or mate means one day's pay lost; and for striking any one on board, double that amount.

While for attempting to smuggle a few pounds of tea or tobacco or a gallon of rum he loses the wages of a whole month.
